Kin Brand Guidelines - Section 1

Kin has a type logo accompanied by an icon. It was very important for the brand to have a strong recognisable icon that is fluid and can work across all future rollout and collateral.

The idea behind the logo was to create an illusion of a box/cube. This represents the blockchain element of the brand whilst allowing for the idea that Kin is a space to make & multiply, hence the hexagonal shape which can be used infinitely.

Logos 1.1

01

LOGO

02

The Kin logo is made up of a type logo and a uniquely designed icon.

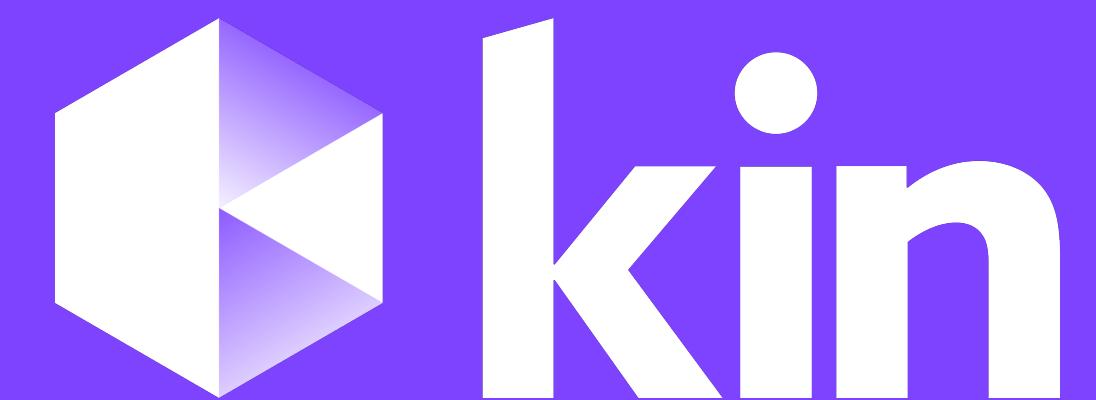

03

The type logo is always placed horizontally next to the icon.

04

The type logo and icon are never to be separated.

05

Logos 1.2

01

LOGOMARK

02

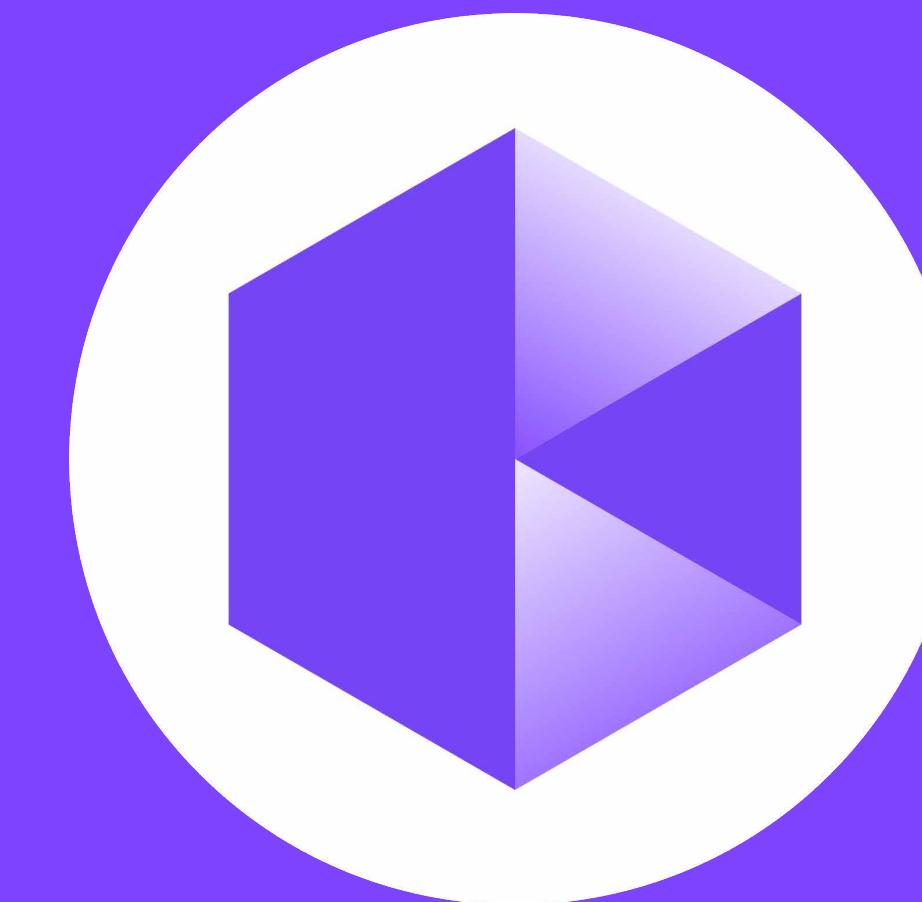

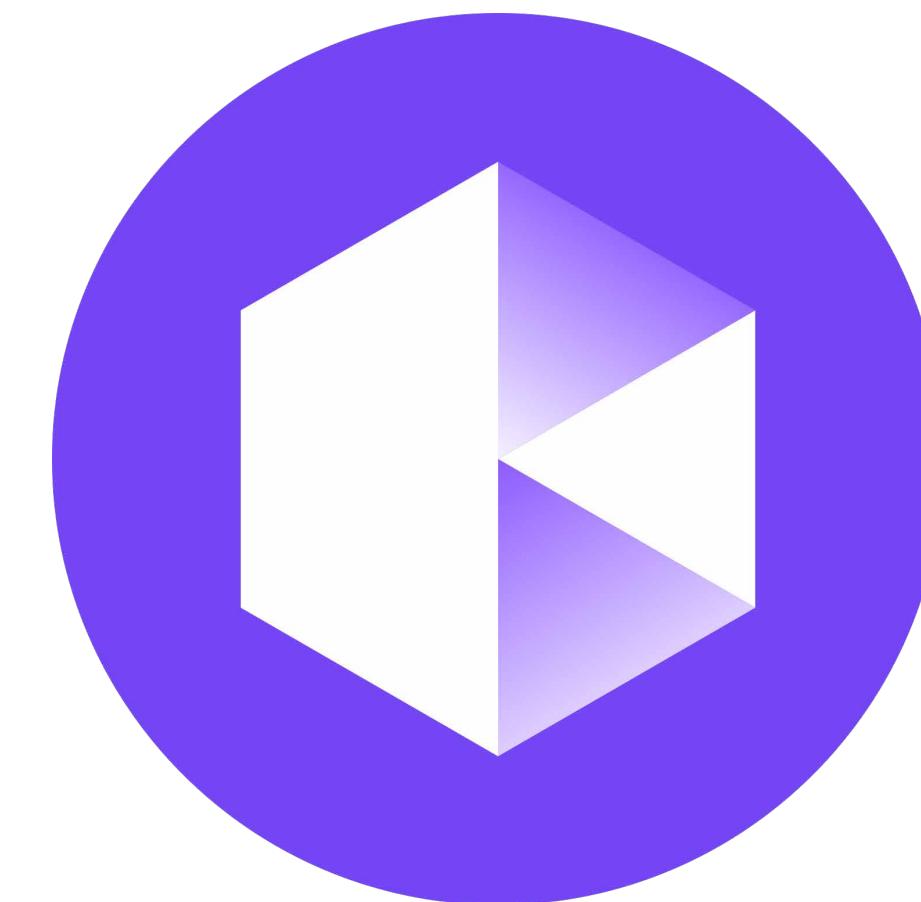

Kin's icon within the logomark has been curated to give the illusion of a box/cube.

03

The shape is made up of triangles of the same dimensions with two of the triangles having a soft gradient to represent the letter 'K'.

04

The main brand colour is Violet, so the logomark should always be this colour*.

Logos 1.3

01

LOGOS OVER IMAGERY

02

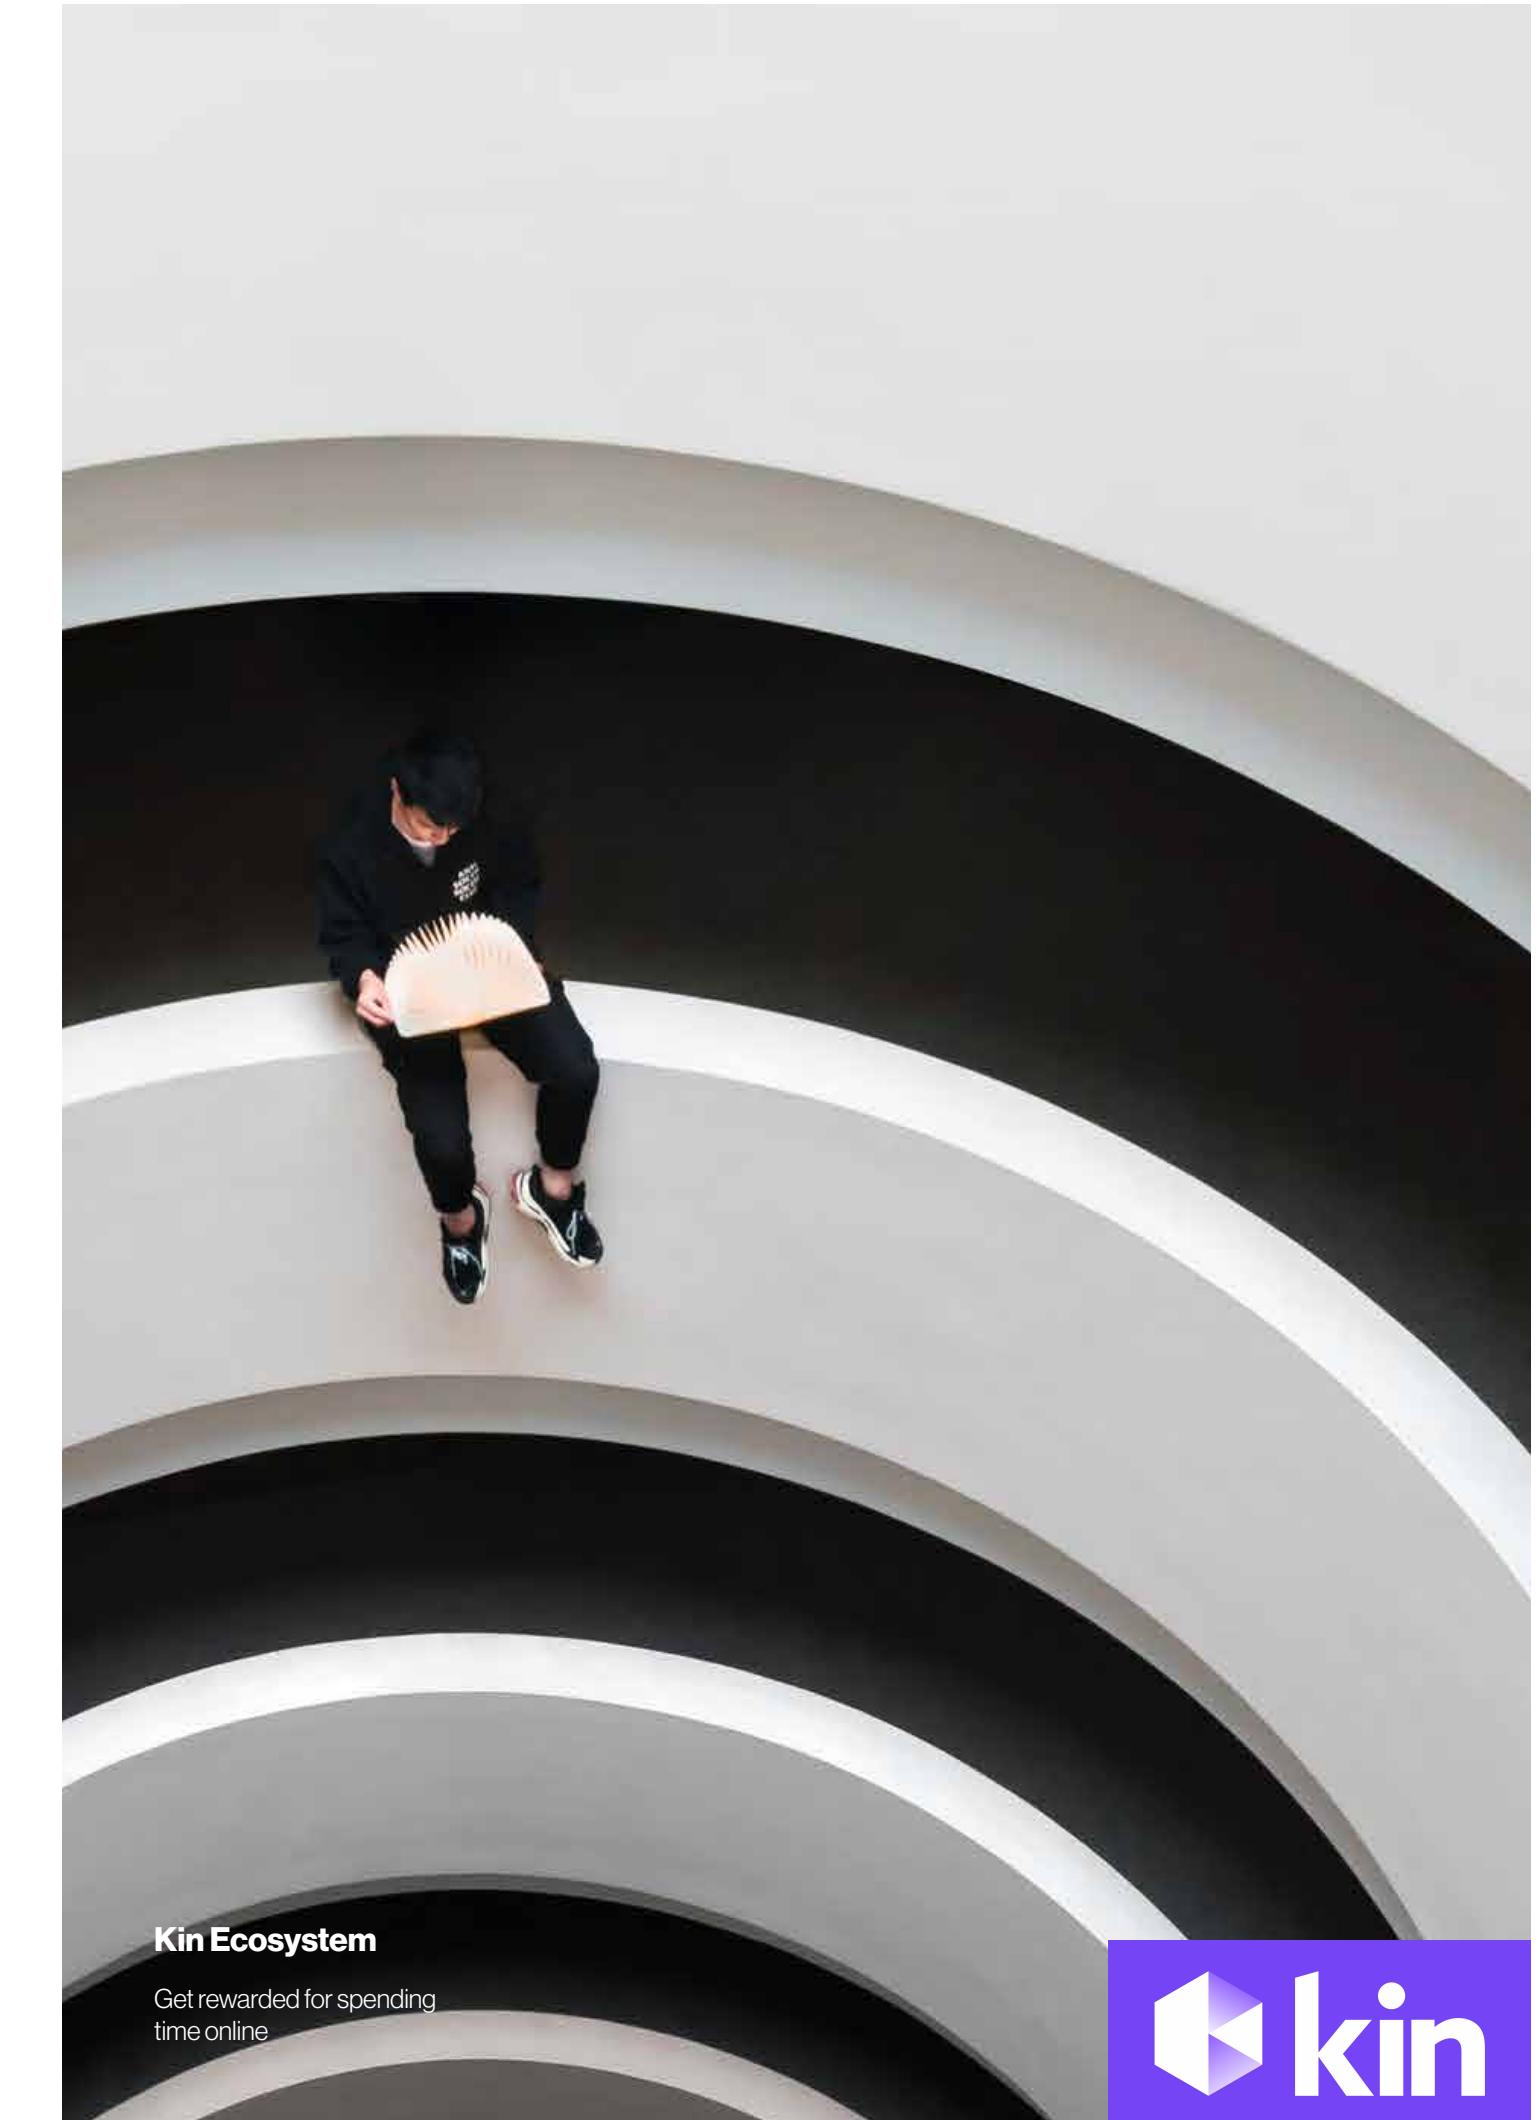

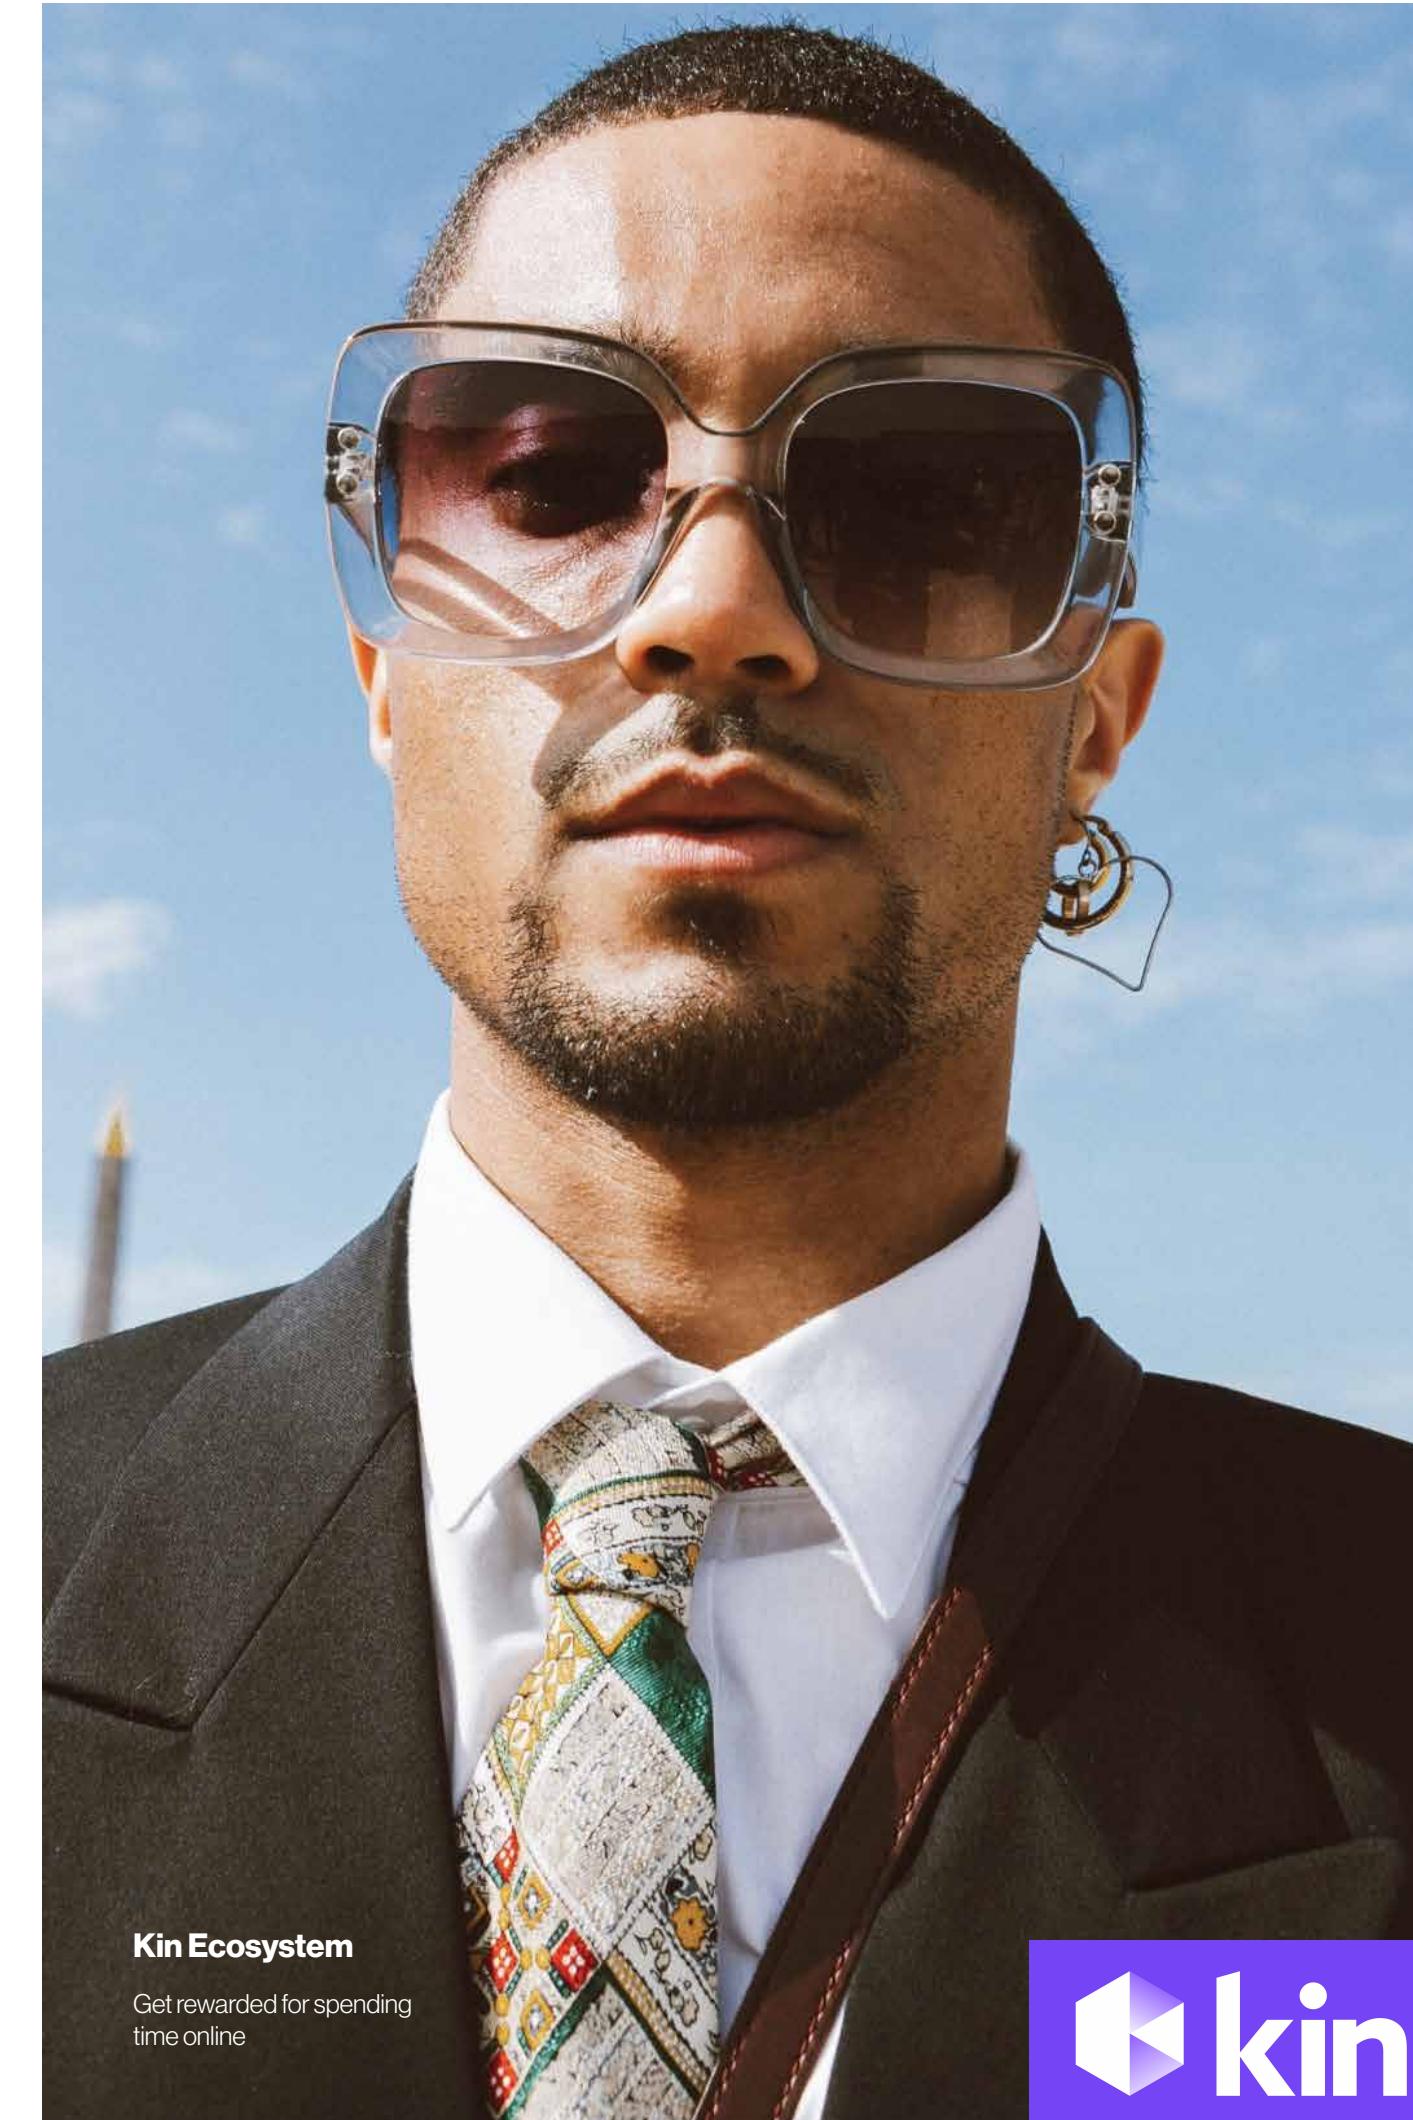

When placing a logo over imagery, a violet container should be used for logo visibility.

04

Ensure that the logo spacing guidelines are still being followed when placing over images.

05

Logos with containers will be provided in the handover file.

Logos 1.4

01

MAIN LOGO

02

Logo spacing is crucial to keep balance and clean white space.

03

The logo exclusion zone is equal to half of the height of the icon.

04

The main logos minimum width for digital use is 71px.

05

The main logos minimum width for print use is 19mm.

Logomark is to be used when the main logo does not meet sizing requirement.

Logos with the correct spacing borders will be provided in the handover file.

ALL ASSETS DELIVERED HAVE INVISIBLE SPACING BUILT INTO FILE TYPE

01

SOCIAL LOGOS

02

The Kin app logo should be presented as the Kin logomark in violet.

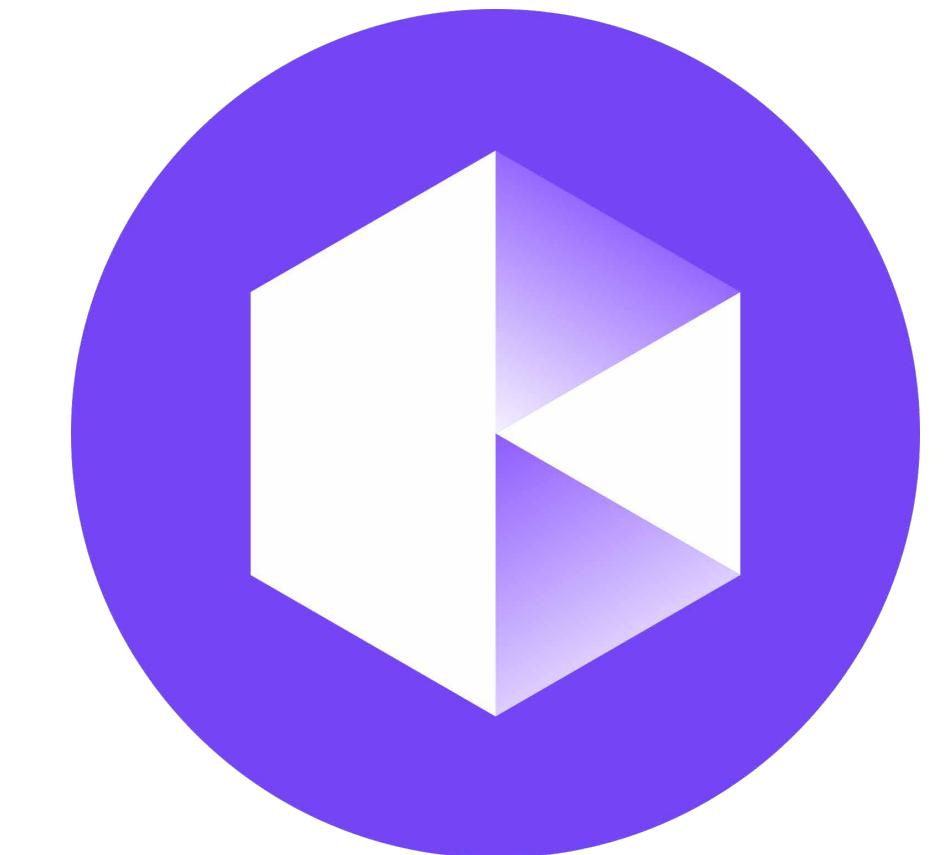

03

The sizing should always be inline with the size guidelines we provide.

04

The icon should be presented like this for any other social media logos or display pictures. e.g. Instagram.

Kin Brand Guidelines - Section 2

Currency Symbol

Kin is unique - it is not only a brand representing an ecosystem of apps, it is also the name of the Kin currency.

The Kin logo and Kin currency symbol are different.

When quantifying an amount of Kin in numerals, the Kin currency symbol can be used as shorthand to express such amounts.

Currency Symbol 2.1

01

CURRENCY

02

There are a number of options which can be used when referring to numerical amounts of Kin.

OPTION 1

Use the entire word 'Kin'

Kin

Examples:

Send 10,000 Kin

OPTION 2

Use an upper-case 'K'

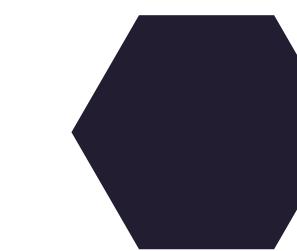

K

Examples:

Send K 10,000

OPTION 3

Use the unicode Black Hexagon
"█" (U+2B22)

Examples:

Send █ 10,000

While the logo image can also be resized down to represent the 'currency symbol' for Kin, the intention here is to enable currency amounts of Kin to be expressed easily in text rather than having to resort to inserting an image file before the numerical amount.

For Kin-apps, apps are free to style the currency symbols however they wish and do not need to follow the colour and font guidelines.

For example: K 10,000

Currency Symbol 2.2

01

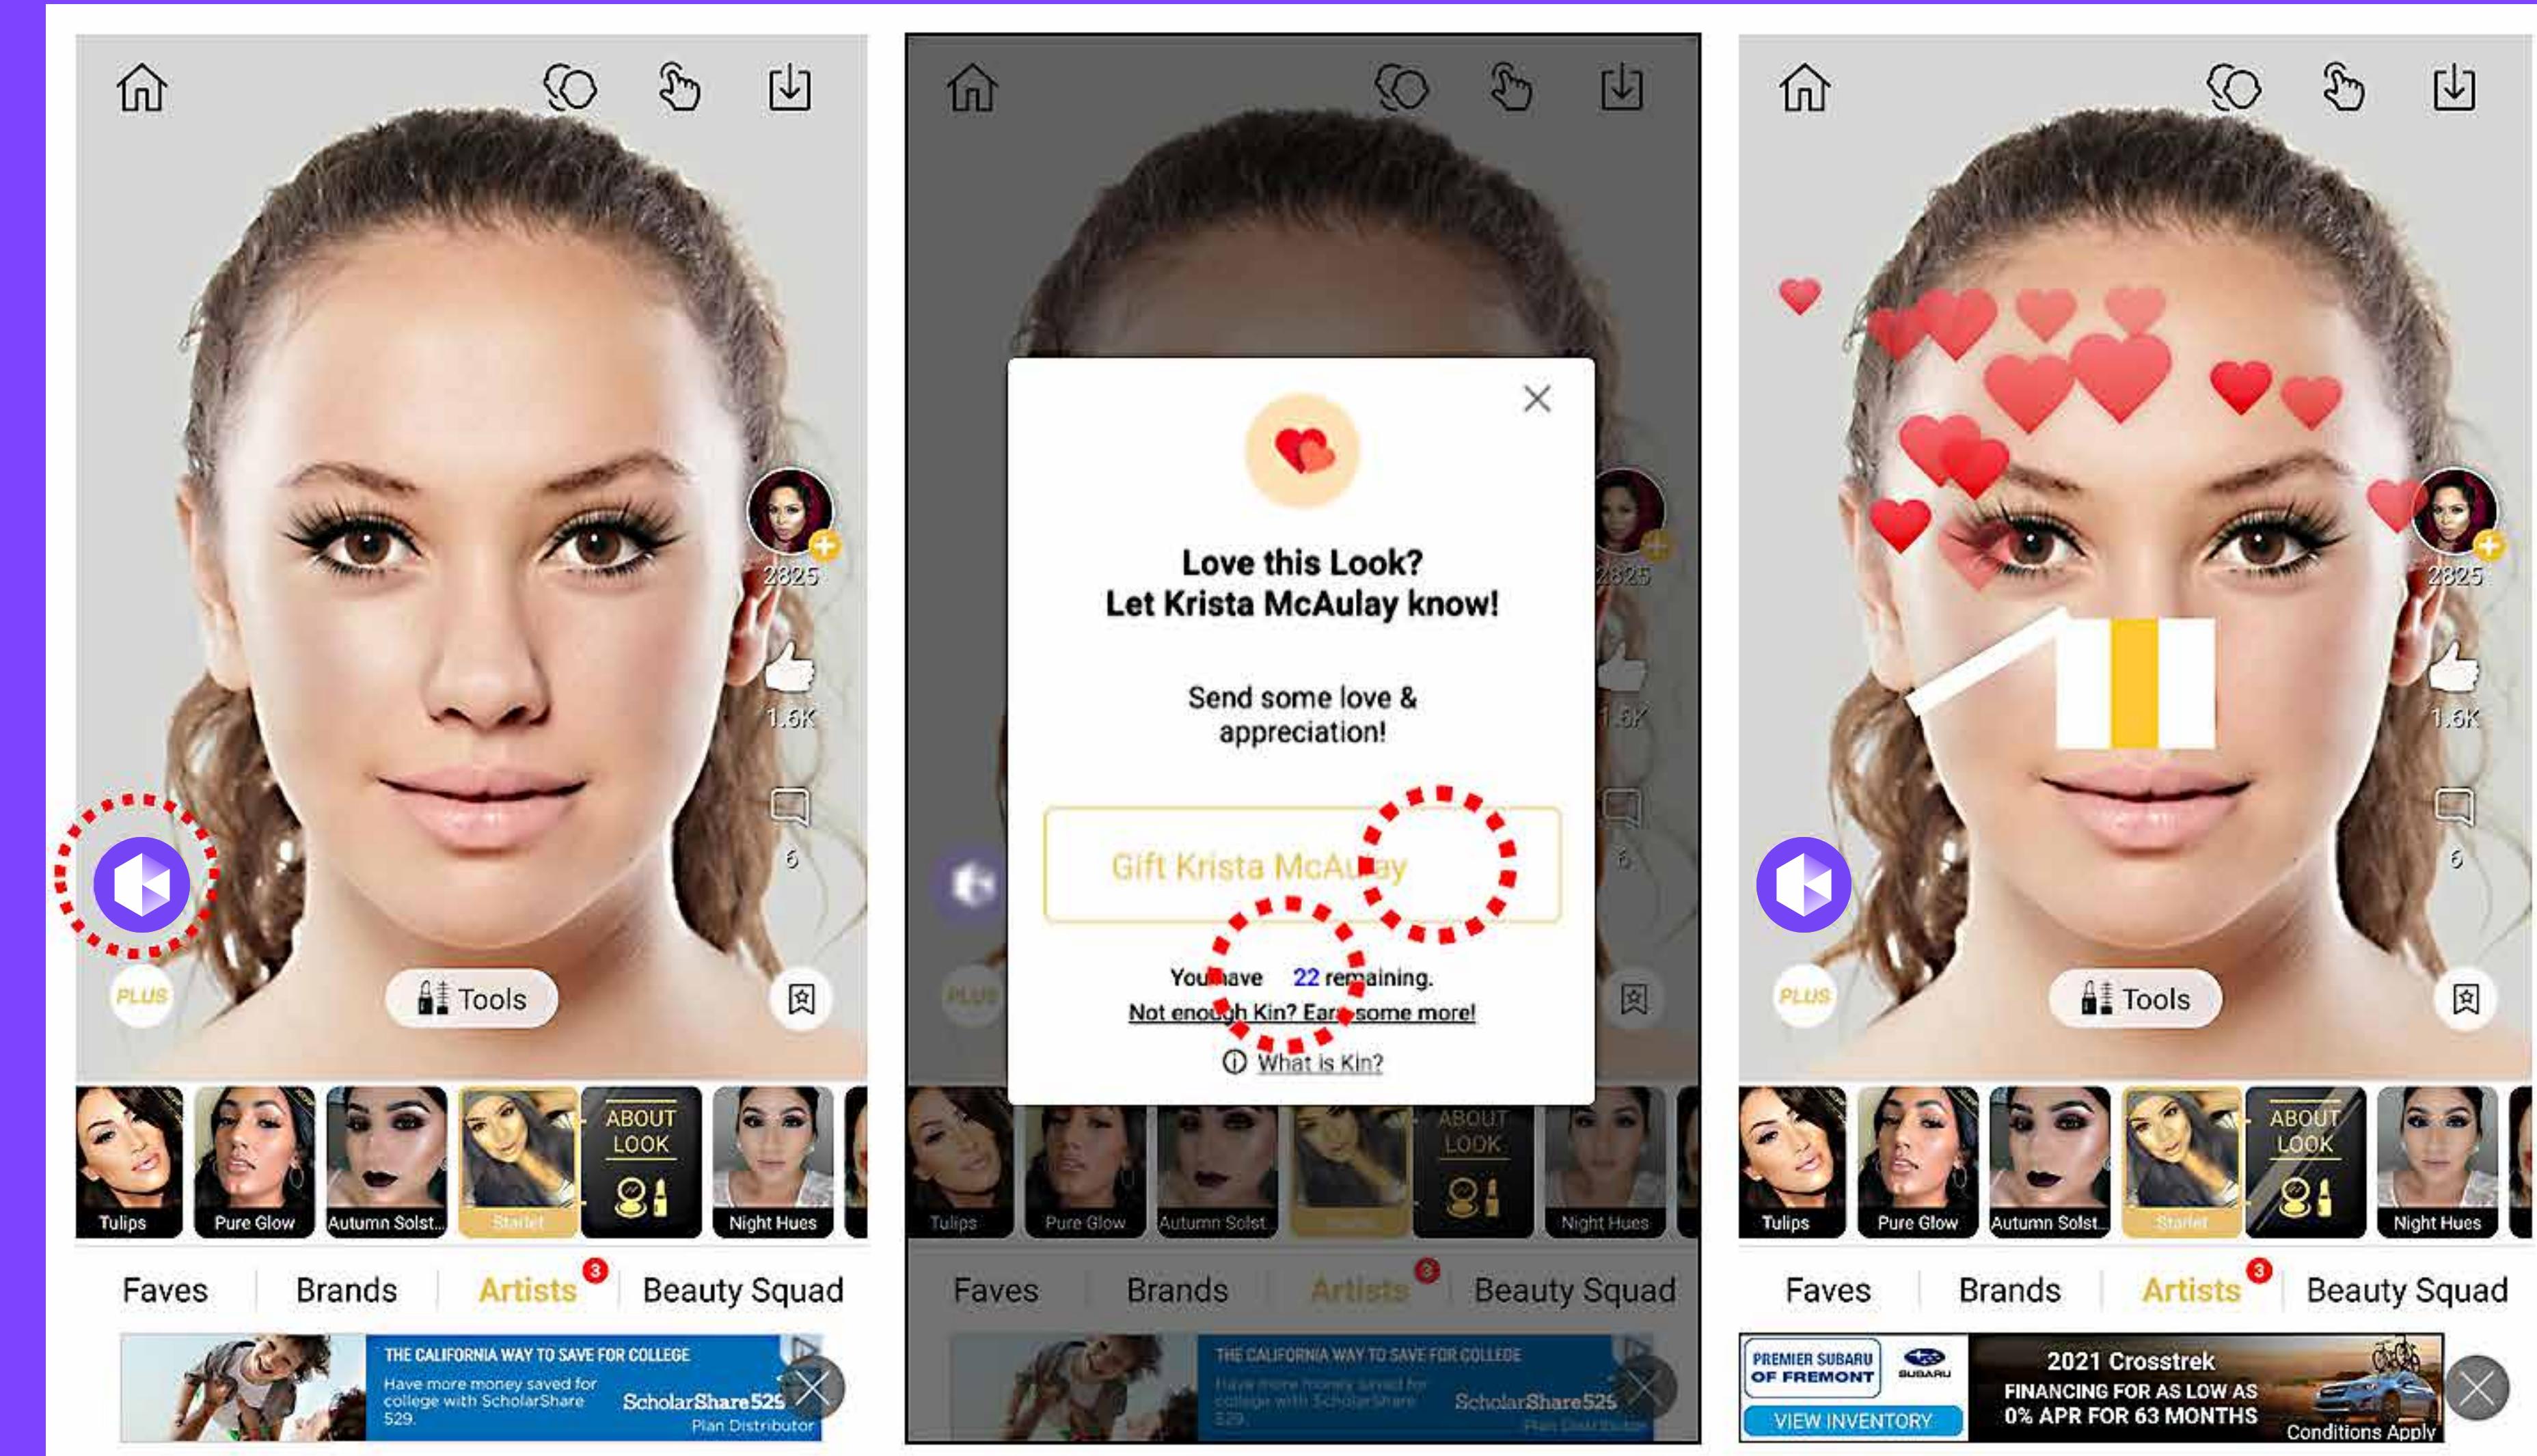

DESIGNING KIN APPS

02

Kin developers are free to experiment between the use of the Kin logo and Kin currency symbol to find the best look for their specific app.

We think a good rule of thumb is:

- use the logomark for buttons when there is sufficient space for it (when it looks good);
- use the currency symbol in small situations and when referring to numerical amounts of Kin.

Typography

Kin's font family is made up of three different typefaces, Neue Haas Grotesk Display Pro, Joanna Sans Nova & Soleil.

Neue Haas Grotesk Display Pro is used as a display font and for all main headings. Soleil is used as subheadings & Joanna Sans Nova is used for body copy.

The set of fonts together are ready for all kinds of typographic challenges. They compliment one another to create a clean and contemporary type hierarchy.

01

TYPE OVERVIEW

02

Kin's main brand font is Neue Haas Grotesk Display
Pro. (75 Bold)

03

Kin is a strong, assertive and fresh brand, therefore we needed a font as bold and clean as Neue Haas Grotesk Display Pro to represent this.

When paired alongside the other chosen typefaces, it creates a cohesive font family that is easily adaptable for many different typographic situations.

CHARACTER SET

02

Kin's character set is made up of five different typefaces.

03

- Neue Haas Grotesk Display Pro 75 Bold
- Soleil Semibold
- Joanna Sans Nova Regular

- Neue Haas Grotesk Display Pro 65 Medium

- Neue Haas Grotesk Display Pro 55 Roman

Do not apply any VA to any of the above fonts.

* VA (Tracking) = Tracking is the process of loosening or tightening the spacing between the characters in selected text or an entire block of text.

01

HIERARCHY + SIZE

02

Be sure to follow the rules on hierarchy and size when creating layouts with the chosen typefaces.

03

Neue Haas Grotesk Display 75 Bold is used for all main headlines.

Soleil (Lower case) is used for all subheadings, it can be used in full capitals or lowercase dependent on the situation.

Joanna Sans Nova Regular is used for all body copy. Joanna Sans Nova Bold can be used to create emphasis on chosen words. This is to be done minimally.

Neue Haas Grotesk Display Pro 55 Roman is used for call to action buttons and tab headings.

SOLEIL IS USED ABOVE HEADLINE

Neue Haas Grotesk Display(75 Bold) is used for Headlines

Soleil (lower case) is used to support headlines and differentiate from the detail of the body copy, use 30-40% of the headline type size. When subheadings are used as a sentence, use punctuation.

Joanna Sans Nova is used for body copy. Use 20-30% of the headline type size for all body copy. For readability, make sure body copy is no smaller than 7pt in print media and 14pt in digital media.

Kin Brand Guidelines - Section 4

Kin's visual branding will be viewed digitally by the most part, therefore we chose a RGB violet as the main brand colour to allow it to be eye-catching and memorable.

There is a soft lilac and a dark blackberry that has been chosen to enhance the overall look & feel, as it provides more depth.

Using complimentary colour pairings helps to keep a strong brand image whilst having white space allows for adaptability throughout a series of situations.

Colour 4.1

01

PRIMARY COLOUR

02

Colour is a key part of Kin's branding. To keep a strong brand image there is a main brand colour, which is Violet this is used for logomarks, social media logos and some backgrounds.

03

The secondary brand colours are Lilac, White & Blackberry. These shall be used throughout the branding but not as much as Violet.

There should be a varied amount of coloured backgrounds on the website to create depth and interest.

01

COLOUR PAIRING

02

When it comes to implementing design using colour it's crucial to use the correct pairing. Each colour was chosen with a secondary shade to be used in contrast throughout. This allows to design to be cohesive & complimentary.

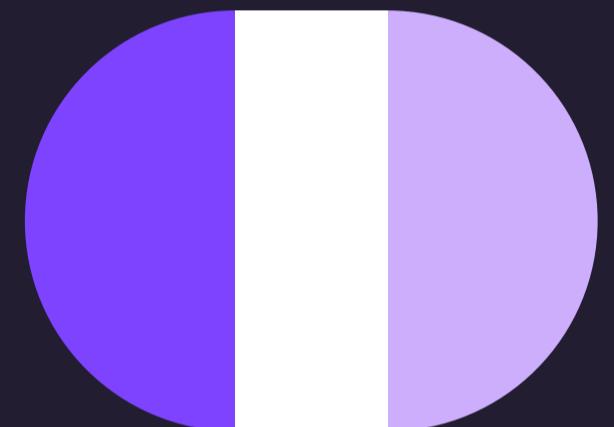

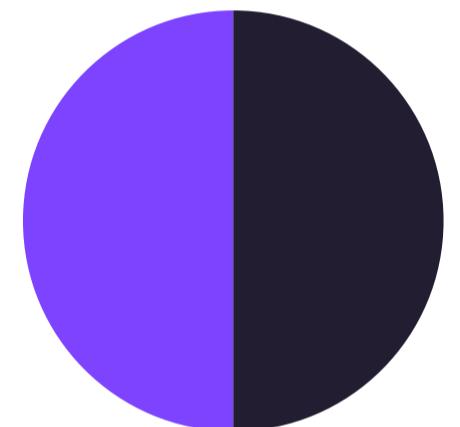

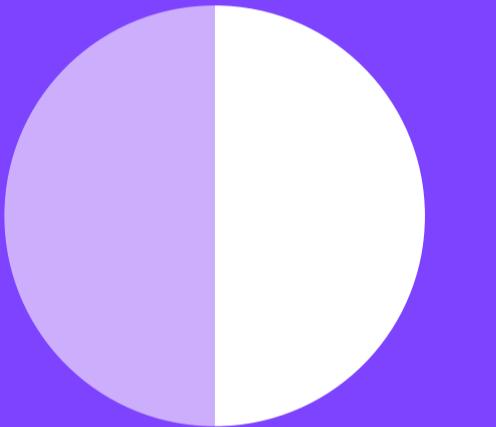

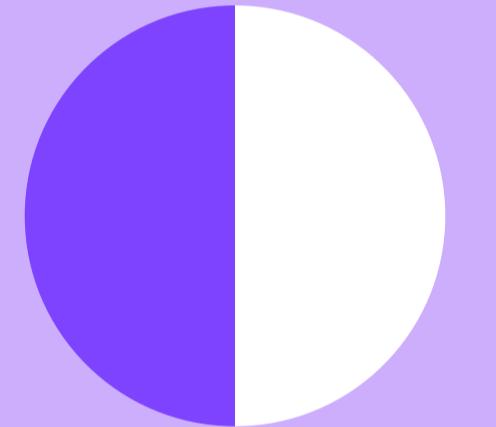

03

Refer back to this page to ensure you're using the correct colour type on the correct background.

04

E.g On a lilac background, only violet or white text should be used.

The only exception is that blackberry graphical elements can be used on all backgrounds.

01

COLOUR PAIRING

02

Colour pairing can be implemented through all typography and graphic elements.

03

When a background or page is a certain colour, check back here and ensure you are using the correct colour match for all type and elements used on that page.

04

For example, if the background is Violet the type and call to actions must be either lilac or white.

01

LOGO PAIRING

02

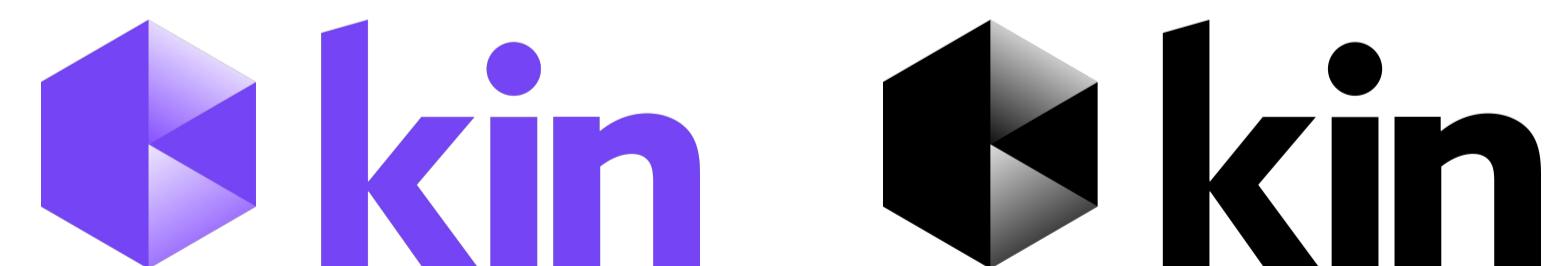

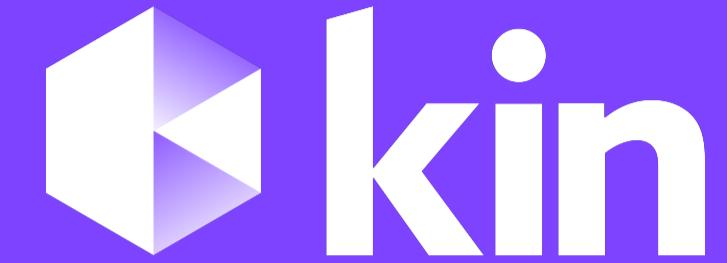

To keep the brand cohesive and to ensure the colour pairing guidelines are being followed please refer to this page when choosing the correct logo for each coloured background.

03

04

All posters, digital advertisements and printed collateral with a white background should use the violet logo, but for busy backgrounds, consider using the white logo with container that is to be used with imagery.

The violet kin logo can be used on a white background when presented on the website or any other digital platforms.

Kin Brand Guidelines - Section 5

Graphic elements

Graphic elements are very important when it comes to branding as they show relationships, hierarchy, and emphasis visually.

Most of the elements that have been created have been designed from the logo itself. They can be used as holding images, stickers and to hold headlines.

Graphical Elements 5.1

01

GRAPHICAL SHAPES

02

These should be the only graphical elements to be used.

03

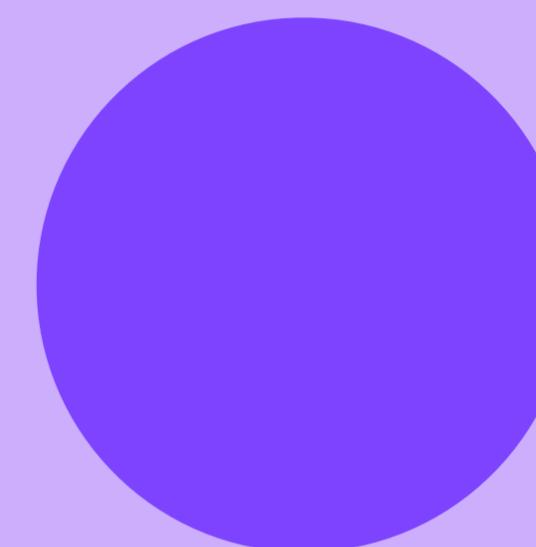

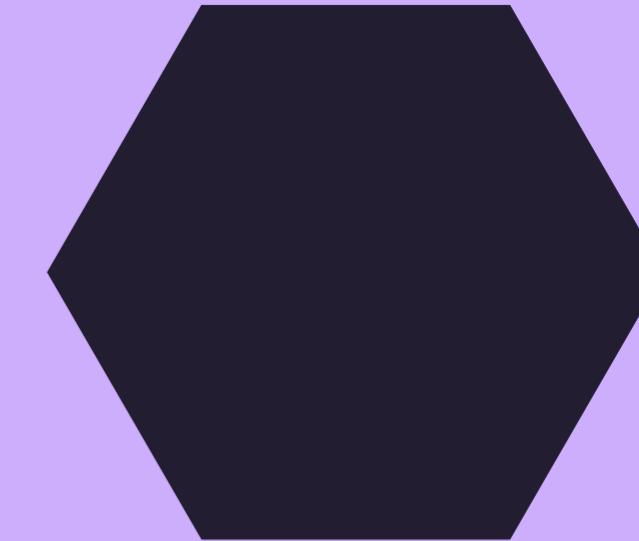

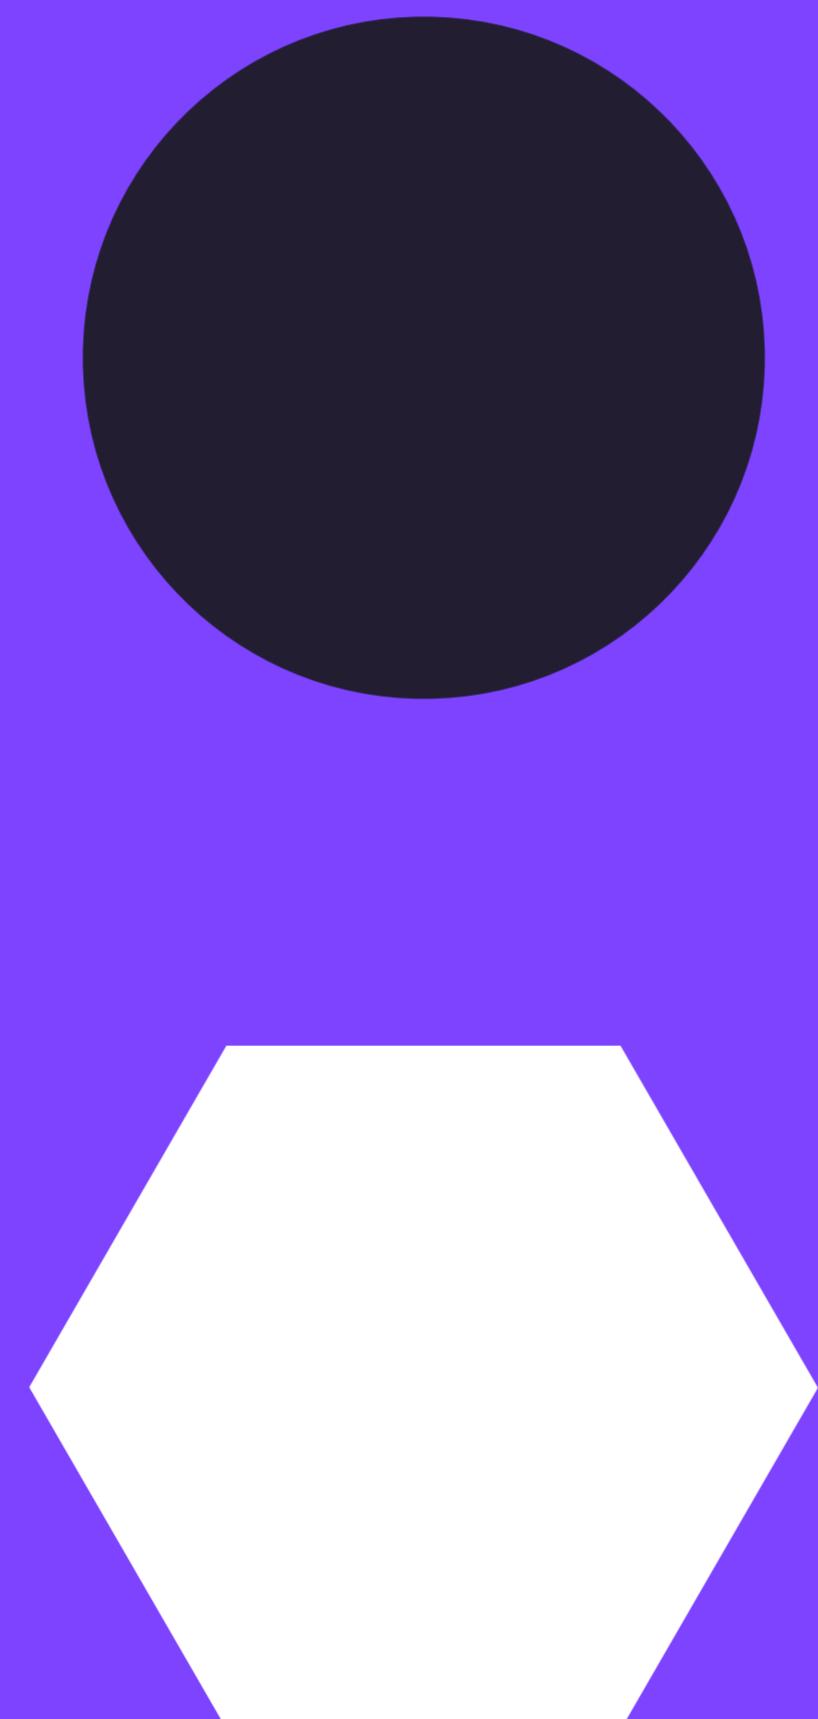

The solid hexagonal shape should only be used very minimally.

The rectangles can be used to hold type headlines on cover pages and documents.

Circles should be used for stickers and for the Kin 'Coin'.

These shapes must not be altered, or squashed.

When it comes to implementation, these should be used very minimally and in line with the colour pairing guidelines. The only exception is that blackberry elements can be used on both violet and lilac backgrounds.

01

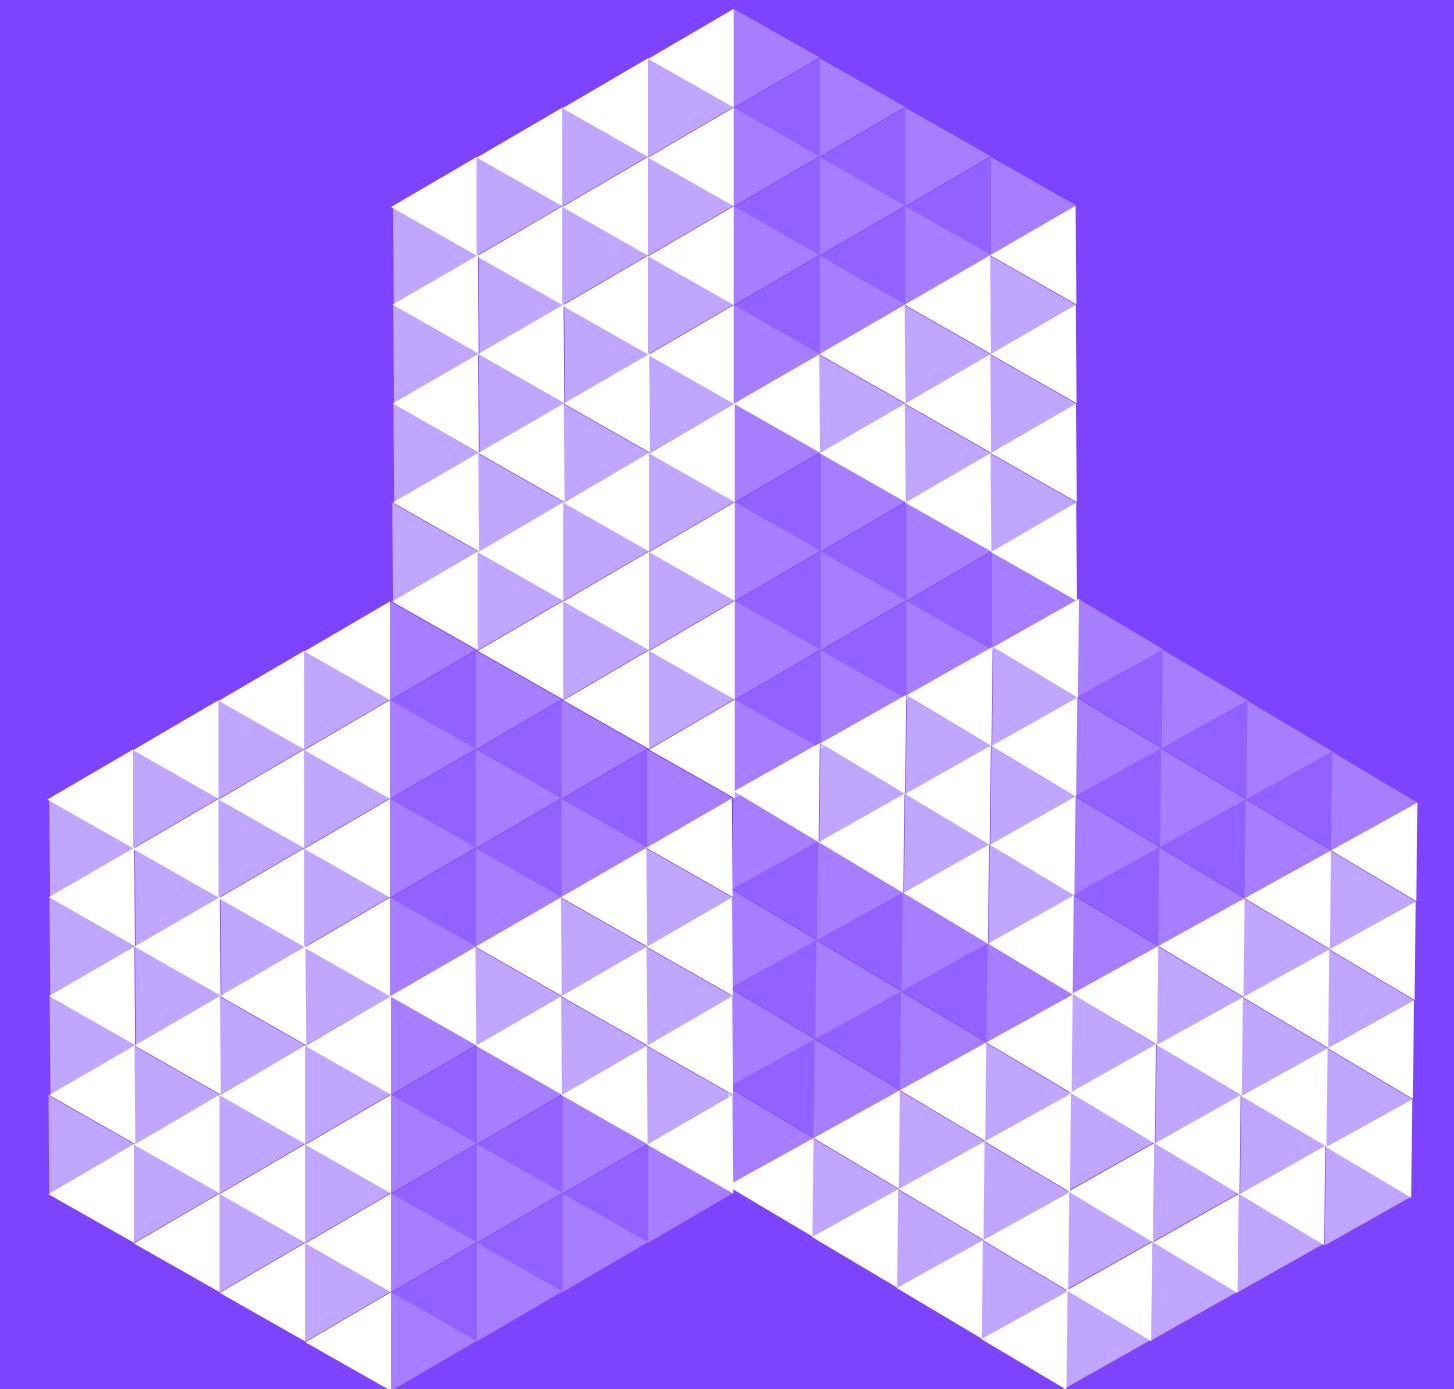

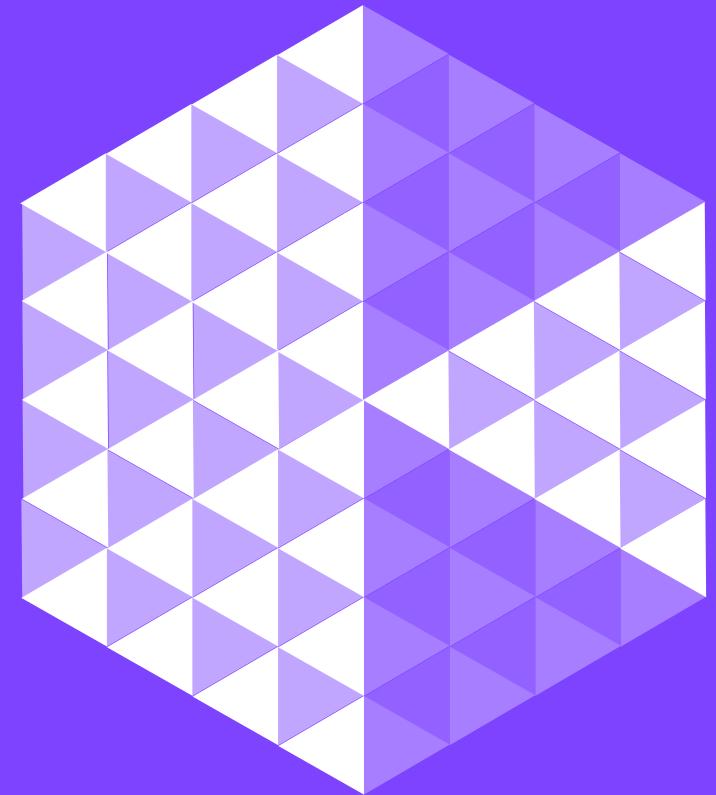

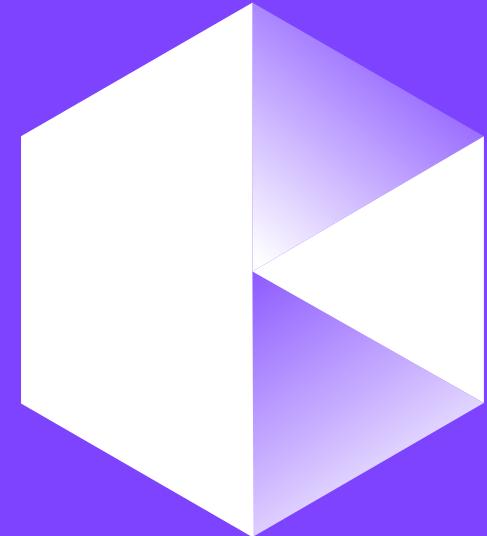

CUBES

02

To elevate the Kin brand different graphical elements will be used to create depth and to add colour.

03

Here we have an example of how the cube shape from the Kin logo can be used to scale larger blocks/cubes.

01

STICKERS IN SITU

02

Rectangles can be used to hold headlines. They should always follow the colour pairing guidelines.

03

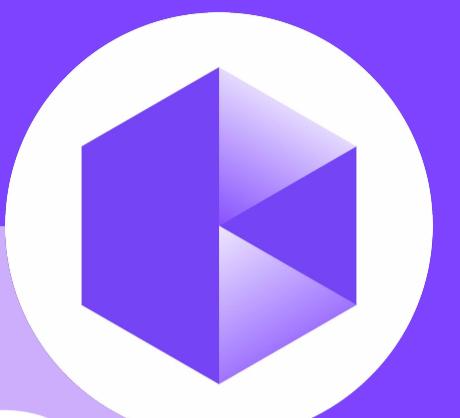

The element must be in the correct pairing to the background.

The type should be in the correct pairing to the element not to the background.

Stickers can be used to overlap text. These should always be placed in the corners and stick to the colour pairing guidelines.

The correct spacing of the logomark must be used

Kin Brand Guidelines - Section 6

Photography

The focus of Kin's photographic guideline is to represent the community of the people using this platform.

Kin's style needs to appear crisp and clean when presented on social platforms and collateral, therefore choosing which images to present is crucial.

Photography 6.1

01

OVERVIEW

02

Kin's imagery needs to represent the community. It needs to be clean, crisp and cool.

03

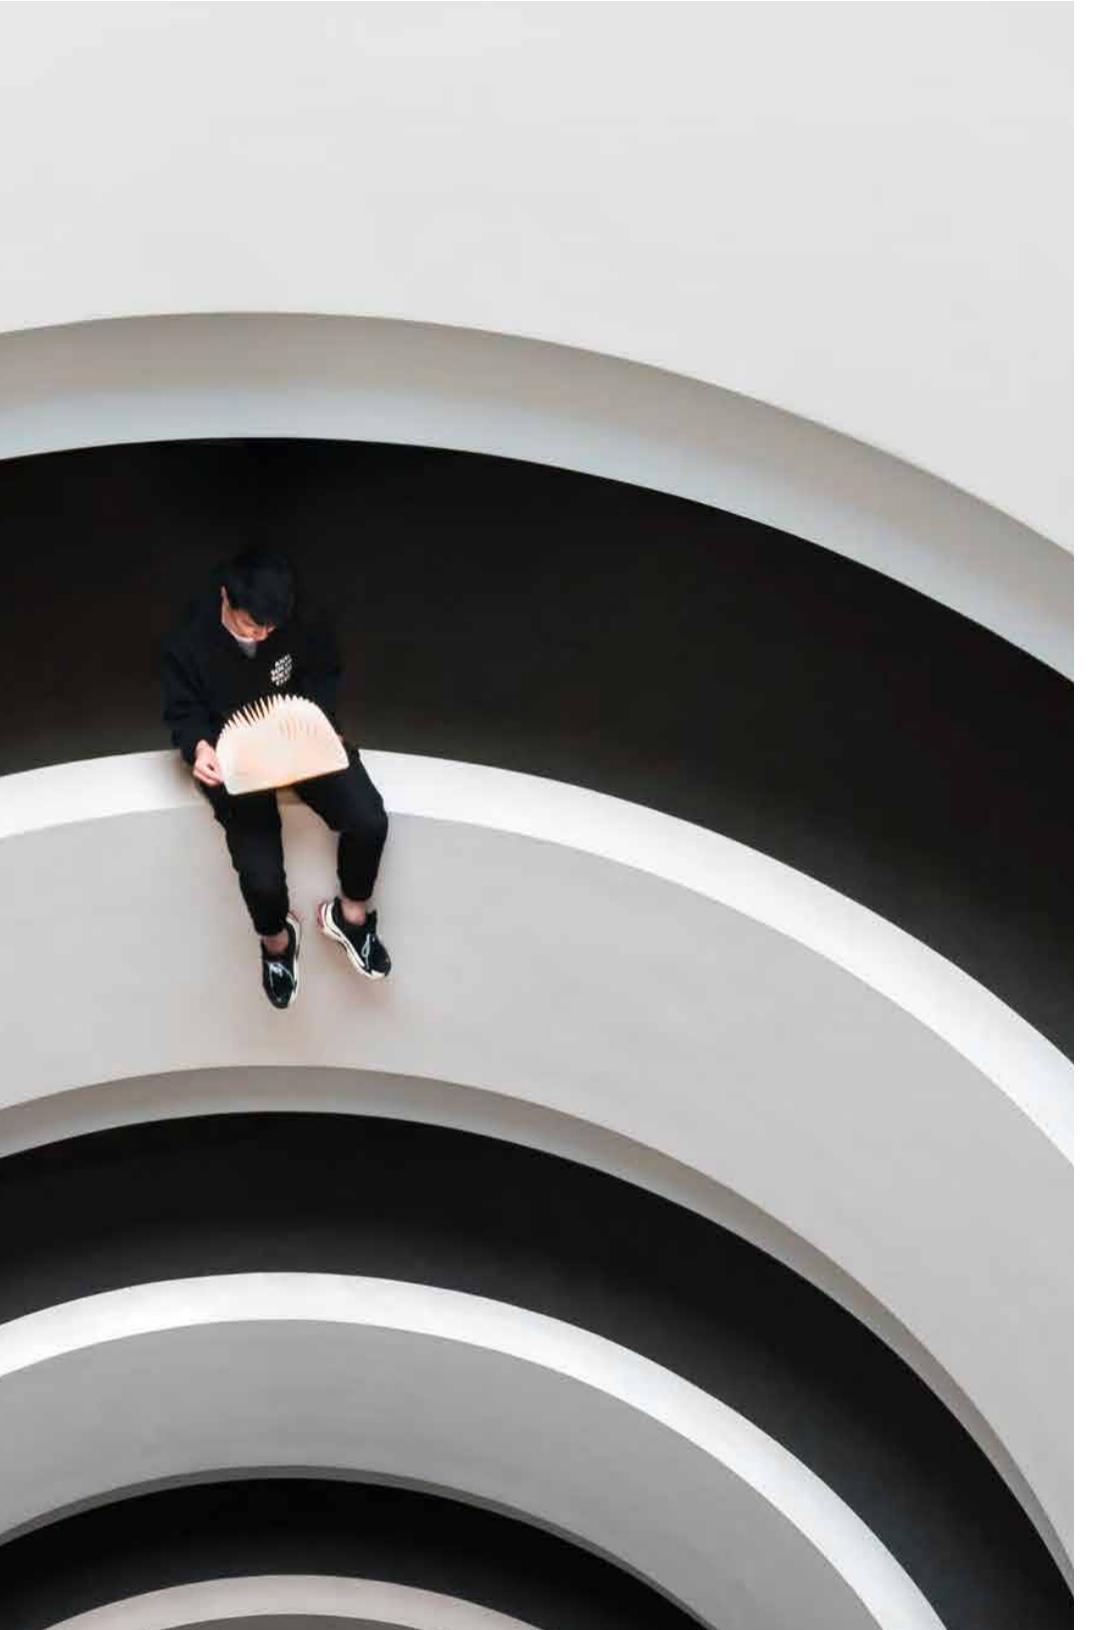

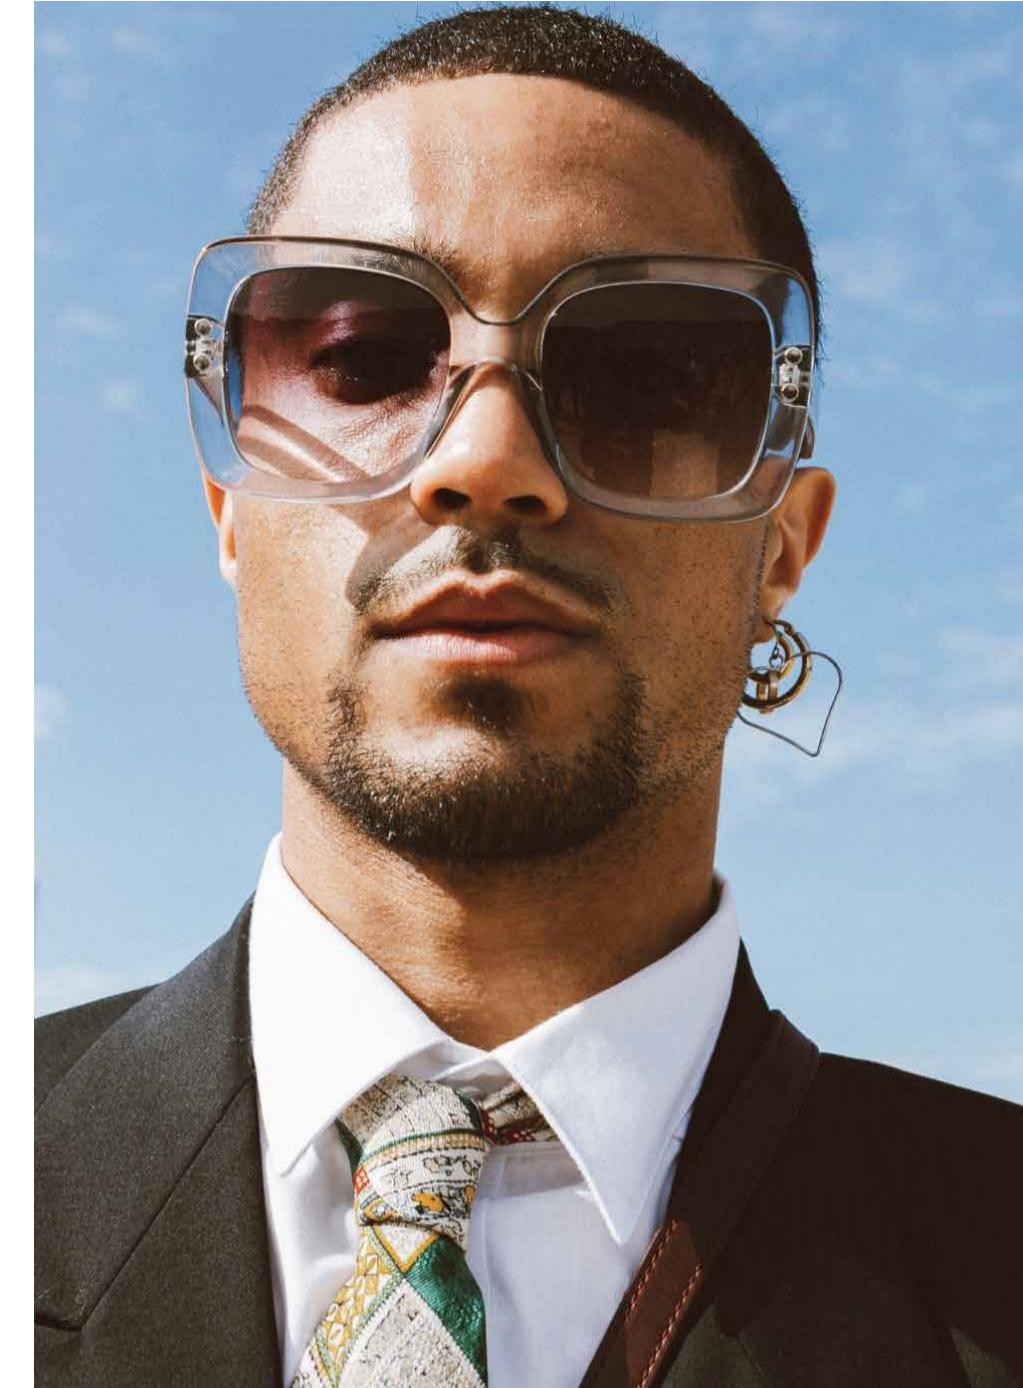

Making use of appealing backgrounds, natural environments and architecture.

04

When it comes to choosing imagery to present as heading images/slides and social media pictures please see the examples of photography here and the key words below in mind.

KEYWORDS:

- Youthful
- Inclusive
- Fashionable
- Friendly
- Natural

01

HOLDING IMAGES

02

The main kin logo shape can be used as a holding image to give a unique look and feel to the design.

03

The two triangles (as shown here) should always be used together to ensure that the 'K' element is always visible.

04

These shapes can also be used to form a photo gallery.

Photography 6.3

01

HOLDING IMAGES

02

The half hexagon element can also be used as a holding images on its own. This can be used when presented on the website to add depth and interest.

04

This is to be used minimally.

What not to do

Any design system operates by deciding what works and crucially, what does not. Look over “what not to do” to get an understanding of why the rules are in place - and what we lose by breaking the rules.

What not to do 7.1

01

LOGOS

02

A.1 The logo should always follow the colour pairing guidelines, it should never be outlined or have a drop shadow. The gradient should never be modified and the colours shouldn't be changed.

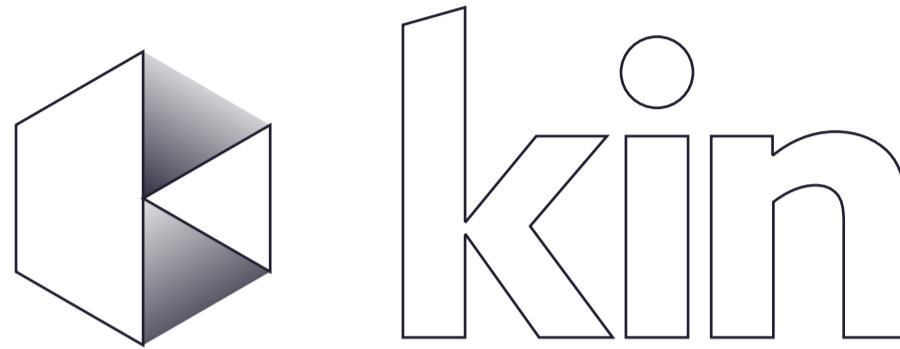

04

A.2 The logo should never be stretched, warped or presented diagonally.

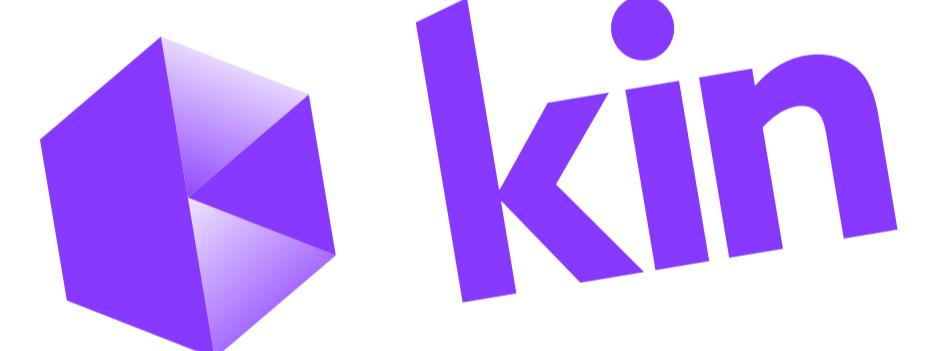

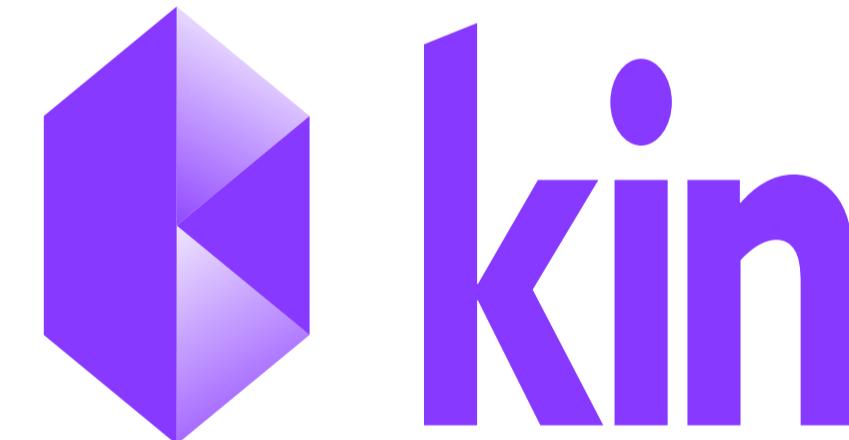

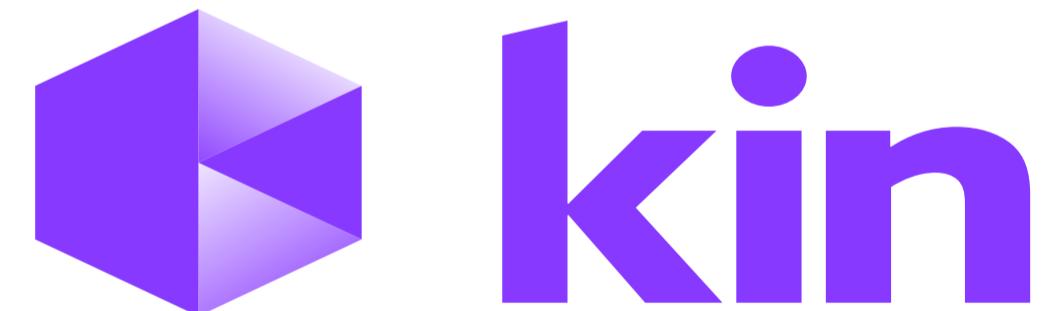

05

A.3 The icon should never be enlarged, coloured differently or rotated.

All the correct logos will be given in the handover package.

a.2

a.3

01

TYPOGRAPHY

02

A1. Colour pairing guidelines must always be followed. Black text is never to be used.

03

A.2 Headline text should never be presented in Capital Letters. It should never be outlined or stretched.

04

A.3 Type should follow the correct sizing and the VA shouldn't be increased or decreased. Text should not be spilt up.

01

GRAPHIC ELEMENTS

02

A.1 Graphic Elements/Holding images should never overlap. They should never be presented horizontally and images on the bottom triangle must be rotated to give off the illusion of a hollow box (refer to the holding images page).

03

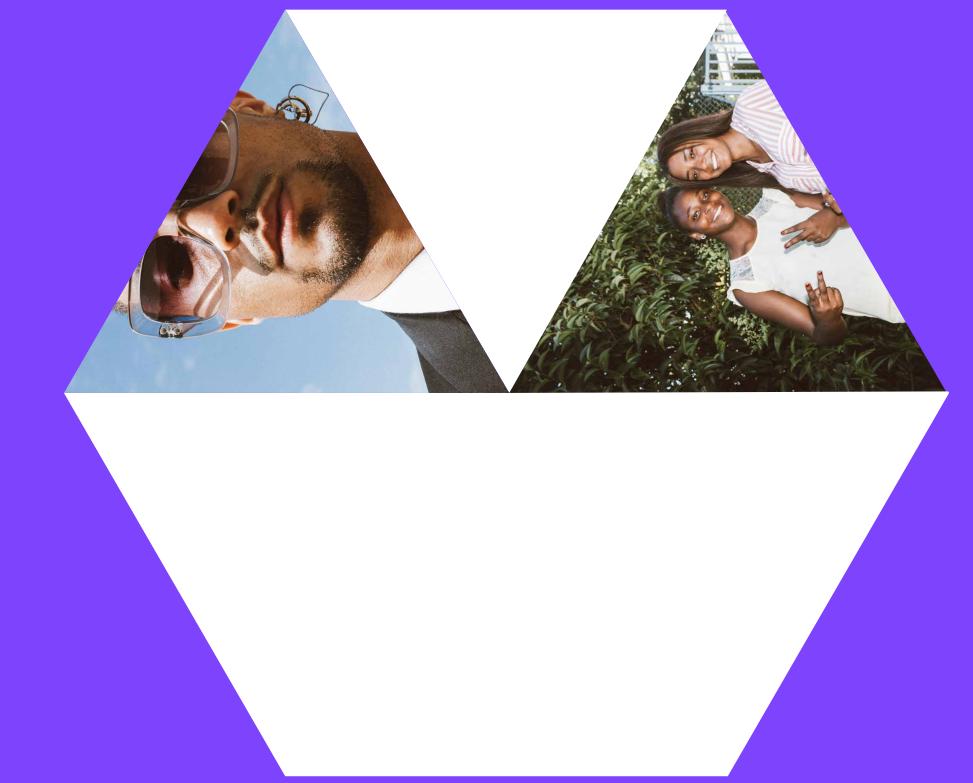

04

05

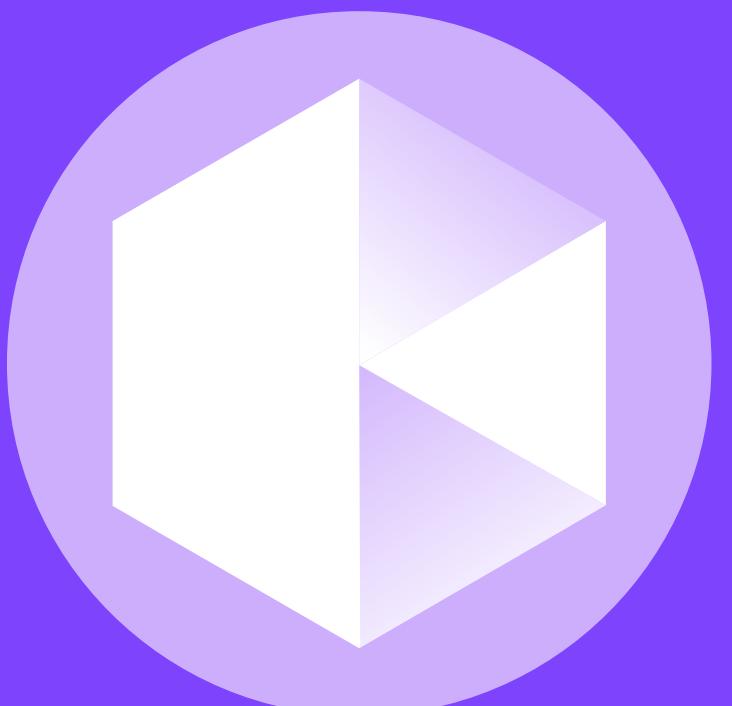

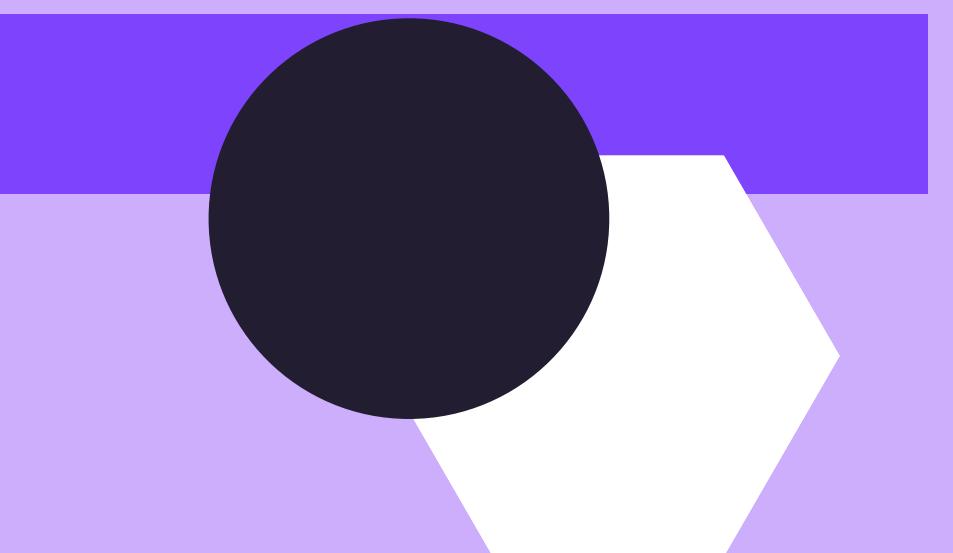

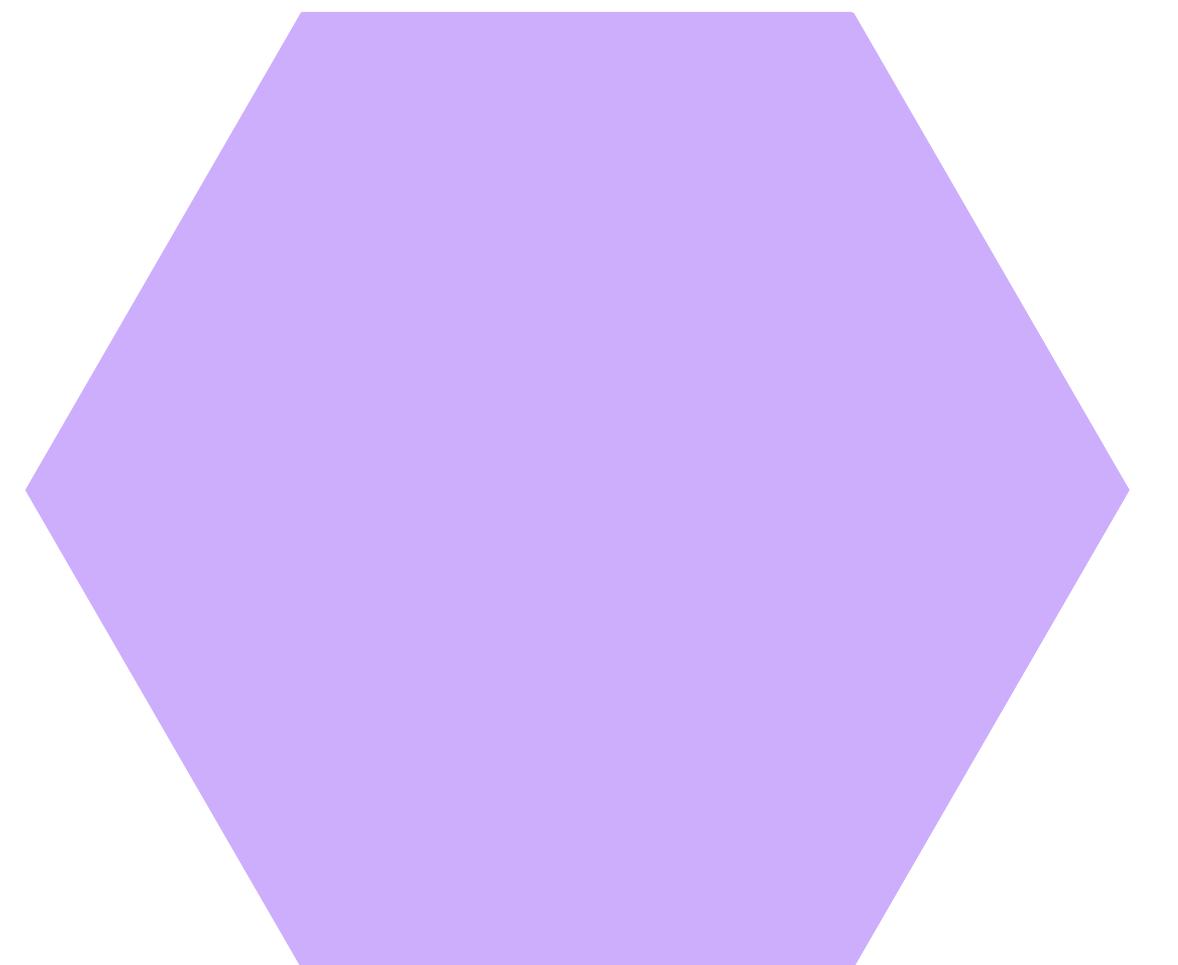

A.2 Graphical elements should not be altered in shape, they should not be squeezed, squashed or rotated. The hexagon shape should be used minimally and usually in a small proximity.

The icon should never be enlarged on stickers. It should follow the sizing and spacing guidelines.

01

PHOTOGRAPHY

02

Choosing the right photography is very important.

03

Do not use any images with

- Colour overlays
- Vingerette
- High saturation
- Special effects
- Low/High exposure
- Black & White edits
- Colour Edits
- Images of people wearing designer/branded clothing
- No Images artificial edit or green screen
- Coloured backgrounds

Kin's photography should look natural, fresh and clean.
